FOREWORD

Collections of pictures and written records can never capture the complete experiences of a year spent at Crewe High School. However, the staff of the 1966 Railroader hopes that these collections will generate many sparkles in the facets of your future life.

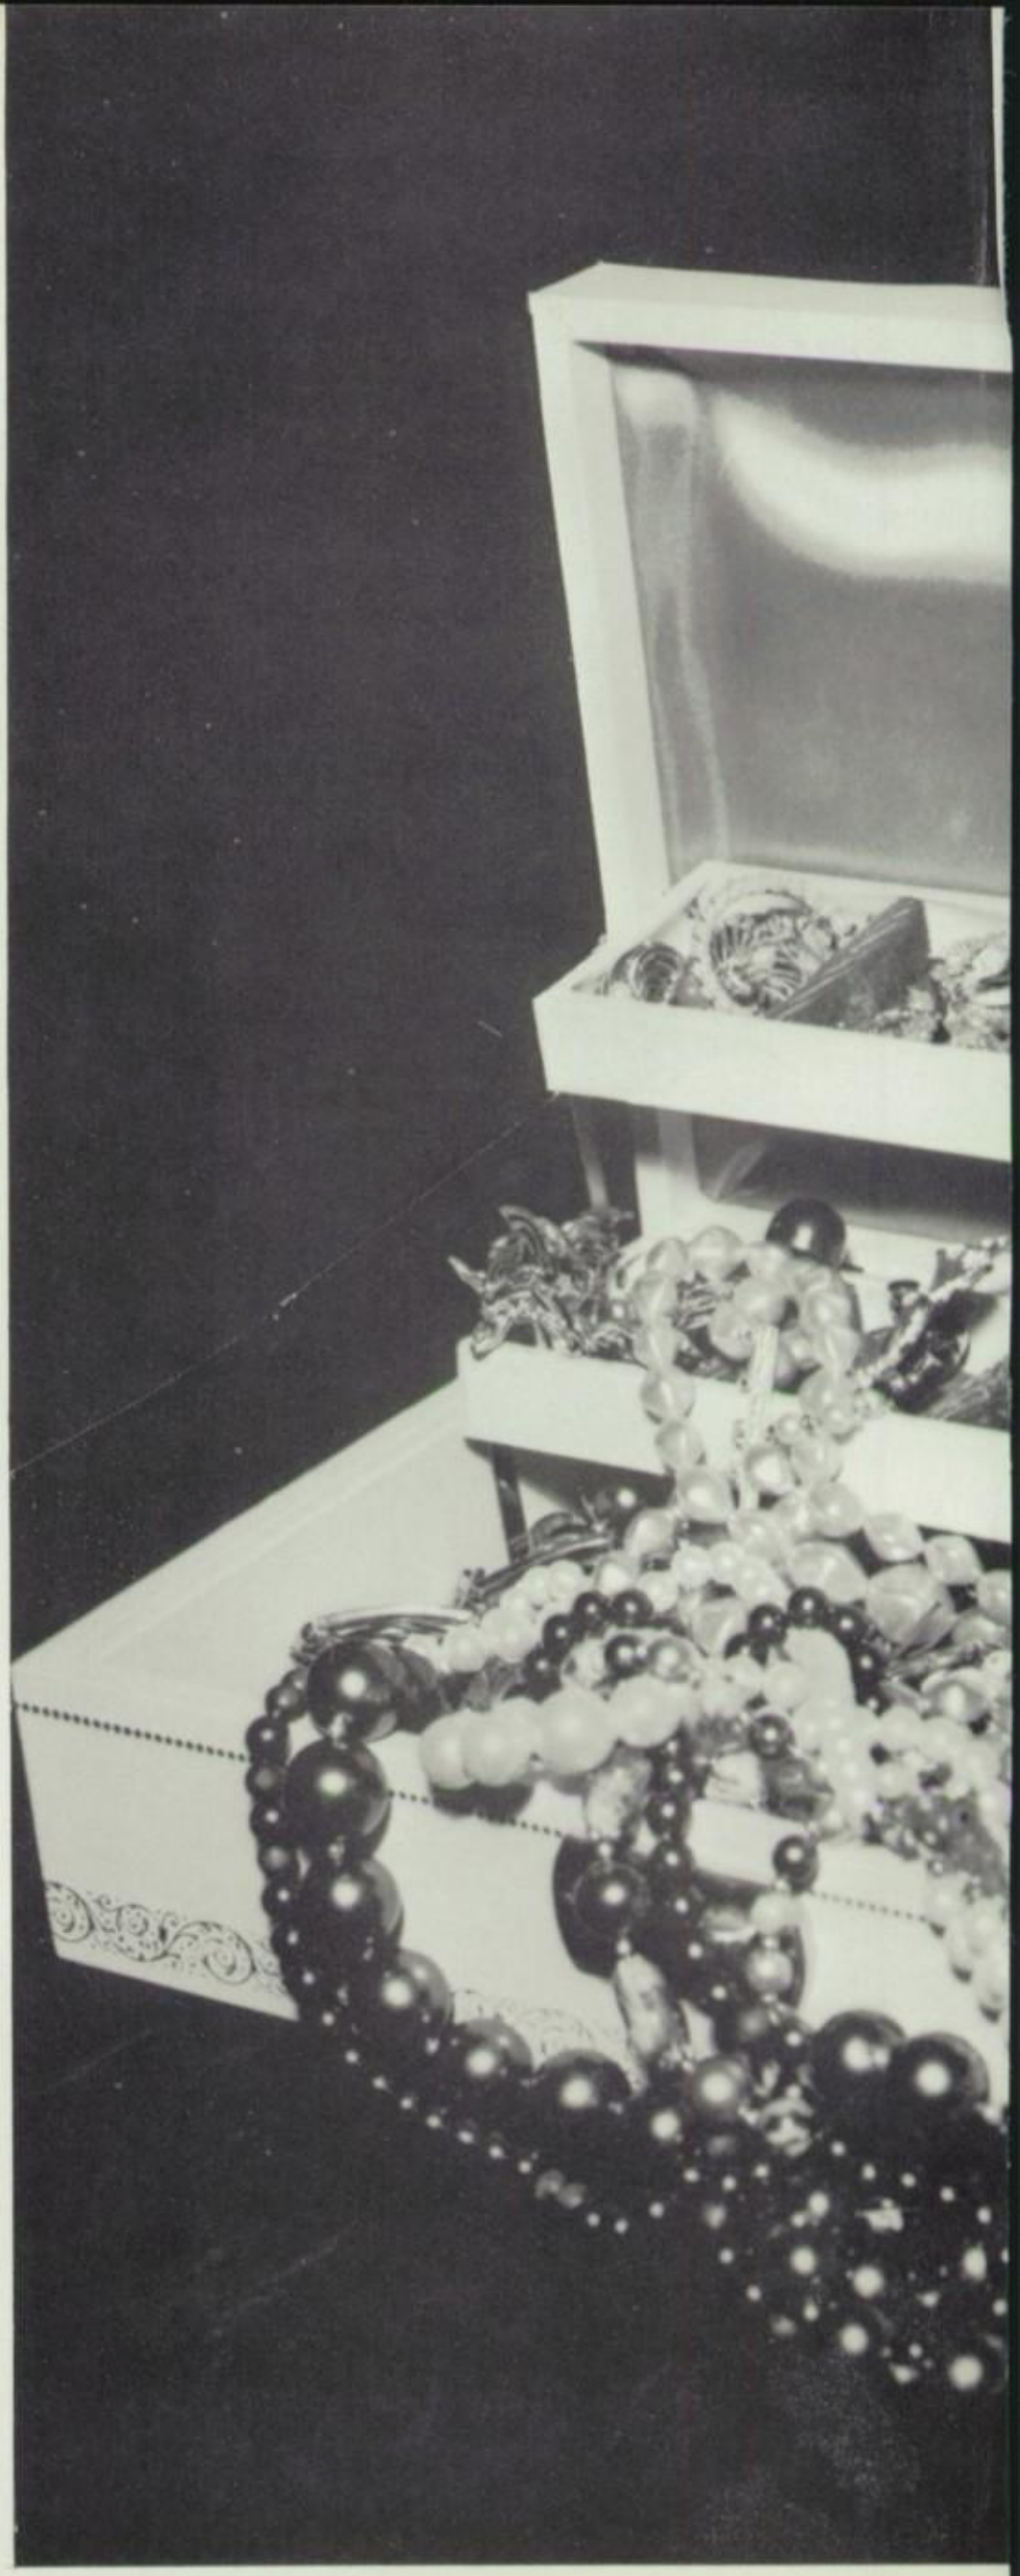
Dexter Oliver, Editors



"How very beautiful these gems are!
It is strange how deeply colors seem to penetrate one like scent.
They look like fragments of heaven."

Innovations and school activities

Buz Barton, Dick Ward, Eugene Flowers, and Kay Roberts, English and typing students, work on Dispatcher layouts.

The brilliance of the school year of 1965-66 eminated new facets and innovations which had been added to give lasting durability. Each teacher and piece of new equipment served as a setting for a school year of sparkle and excitement.

Mr. Lee Johnson taught full-time driver education in both car and classroom training. While studying at Old Dominion College during the summer of 1965, he received qualifications for driving skills.

Two new assistant coaches were added to the faculty this year. Mr. Harry Vannoy assisted Coach Golubic in football, and Mr. Wayne Latham brought the possibility of a track team. Other new teachers were Mr. Barry Carnes, science; Mr. Barrow Cyrus, English and dramatics; Mrs. Dorothy Maher Tysinger, physical education (girls); and Mrs. Lorene Roberts, English.

The Dispatcher, formerly sponsored by the Beta Club, was placed under the supervision of the English Department.

Mr. Johnson points out driving skills to students Inky Boisseau, Roger Smith, Arthur Fender, and Sandra Roop.

Principal Via and Mr. Goldsmith, Director of Instruction, discuss the Evaluation Program.

add interest and color to school life

Mrs. Yeatts, Mrs. Farley, Mr. Cyrus, Mrs. Clark, and Mrs. Bridgforth relax before a faculty evaluation session.

Instruction in the use of the View-deck is given to Barbara Hamner by Mrs. Wilson.

The State Department of Education has made available to the students of Crewe High School some aids to study, to self-education, and to job and college information. The new viewbox is a record player with color film strips to illustrate such talks as the following: How to Study, Understanding Adults, You and Your College Boards, and High School Drop-outs. A college View-deck is available from the school board office. Up-to-date brochures have been added to the Career Exploratory Kit. Business school, technical school, and college catalogues are kept current in the Guidance Office.

The staff and faculty of Crewe High School have made a study of themselves, of the school program, and of the facilities. In April, an evaluation team appointed by the State Department of Education studied these findings, rated the school, and reported their findings to the School Board, to the State Department, and to the Southern Association of Schools and Colleges.

For the first time in its history, Crewe High became integrated.

Ronnie Boyd concentrates, in study hall, as he used a new desk.

The addition of new equipment in the rear of the auditorium accommodates study hall students.

Newly equipped band trailer, new lapboards

For the first time, the Crewe High School Band became a part of the school program. With the coming of the school year 1965-66, a rehearsal building was added, and band was offered to students daily during their school day. New music stands, and a storage place for musical instruments, uniforms, and materials have encouraged and strengthened the band program in school.

Mirrors, one of which is of full length, were placed in the girls' physical education room this year.

Lack of room, due to an increased number of students, made it essential that all study halls be held in the auditorium. Last summer lapboards were placed on back of seats which were used as temporary desks. A new lighting system was also installed.

The girls of the Ivy League set sparkled with the idea of new earrings for their pierced ears and with stockings and sweaters to match. The hair of both boys and girls became longer and straighter with the fad.

Aluminum band trailer gleams with newness beside the Home Economics Cottage.

Interior of band trailer is spacious and well equipped.

Mrs. Roberts and band students enjoy their new facilities.

Mr. Johnson gets out of driver-education car after teaching skills to student.

Virginia Pfleger enjoys using mirror in girls' physical education room.

for study, and fads add spice to instruction

Wearing monogrammed pin with pierced earrings to match, and hose to match sweater and skirt, Ann Taylor models the 1965-66 fads.

Mr. Cyrus helps Barbara Hamner and Donna Large in dramatizing "Macbeth."

Mr. Wayne Latham explains a homework assignment to the Algebra II class.

Third period girls' physical education class enjoys a game of volleyball.

Mr. Barry Carnes calls the roll in Science 8.

Enthusiastic cheerleaders lead a cheer at the homecoming pep rally.

S.C.A. furnishes leadership

Every student at Crewe High is an integral part of the Student Co-operative Association.

The Student Council is a representative group composed of the officers, homeroom delegates, all class and club presidents, and publications editors.

The Council, under the direction of Mrs. Christine Clark, coordinates all assembly programs.

Half-time festivities at the Homecoming game were again sponsored by the S.C.A.

Linda Bradshaw served on the District Executive Committee and assisted with plans for the district meeting at Cumberland High School.

Council Delegates from Crewe attended the State Convention in Virginia Beach. Hal Hardaway, Vice-President, represented the Crewe Council at the summer workshop held at Radford College.

Members were also sent to the Youth Forum at Thomas Jefferson High School in Richmond.

Janice McCormick and Anne Taylor join Susan Boswell to attend Youth Forum in Richmond.

Linda Bradshaw prepares her notes for leading a discussion group at a District Meeting in Cumberland High School.

With gavel in hand, President Dickie Ingram calls a Council Meeting to order.

CHS Band displays vivacity in activities

The spirited band led by its high-stepping majorettes has brought honor and recognition to CHS in its secondyear as part of the school program.

The addition of a trailer-type rehearsal building was added for band instruction. This room was fully equipped with heavy duty chairs, stands, and storage space.

Mrs. Dorothy Roberts was employed as full-time band instructor for the high school and elementary school.

The beginning band consisted of 38 members and the performing band of 50 members.

The marching band was led by Bonnie Dixon, who is also a member of the percussion section. This unit performed in various concerts and parades and appeared at all football games during the school year.

The band officers elected for the year were Rickey Webster (Vice-President), Bonnie Dixon (Drum Majorette), Donna Kay Gholson (Secretary-Treasurer), Drew Spivey (President).

Drill Team sparkles with vitality

The Drill Team, in its second year, is under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Roberts and Mrs. Dorothy Tysinger. This year, there are 32 bright, shining faces on the Drill Team.

Football half-times glowed with the marching in time to the cadence of the band. Participation in parades throughout the vicinity occupied much of the Drill Team's schedule this year.

Long hours of practice and drilling promoted the energy, precision of movement, and team spirit displayed by the girls. The band's co-operation, help, and patience with the Drill Team is greatly responsible for the success and the outstanding performances given by the Team in 1965.

Drill leaders are Susan DuPriest and Nancy Flippen.

Library assistants serve the student body

The Library Club performs an important function at Crewe High School by stimulating greater interest in reading and in the use of the library.

Individual members of the Library Club serve as student assistants, deliver overdue slips, and sell paperback books. Some take care of the bulletin boards and others operate the audio-visual equipment.

All participate in the observance of National Library Week and Book Week.

The sale of paperback books, the Club's principal money-making project, enables students to own books and promotes a greater interest in reading.

Another valuable addition to the library this year was the Junior-Senior bookshelf, composed of stimulating novels of interest to the upperclassmen.

Johanna Olsen and Sharon Jones search for book titles and authors in the card catalogue.

F.F.A. develops leadership in study of agriculture

The Future Farmers of America (F.F.A.) is an intra-curricular activity that has its foundation in Vocational Agriculture. All students of vocational agriculture are members. The chapter membership at present is 48. The purposes of the organization are to develop educational, recreational, and leadership activities among the members.

The chapter is affiliated with the LAND Federation, State and National F.F.A. organizations. Membership degrees include Green Hands, Chapter Farmers, and State Farmers. Degrees are earned by meeting minimum qualifications. Members conduct livestock projects, crop projects, and employer trainee projects.

The chapter colors are National blue and Corn gold. The motto is "Learning to do - Doing to learn - Earning to live - Living to serve."

Pep Club embodies school spirit

The Pep Club is a service club whose main objective is to support athletics. This year the Pep Club catered to the public during football season by operating a concession stand at all home games. The proceeds, as usual, were donated to the athletic fund.

New members are chosen from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes. Anne Taylor held a party this year in her home in honor of the initiates. These new members were Louise Eubank, Bonnie Dixon, Doris Toney, Totty Farrar, Ellen Shell, Betsy Clay, Barbara Thacker, Sandra Roop, Linda Strum, Sharon Jones, Jo Ann Phelps, and Inky Boisseau.

Each Friday Pep members wear the club colors, red and white. The first Friday of the month, the Pep emblem is worn.

Future Homemakers emphasize

The 1965-66 goal of the Crewe Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America was "to help each family member recognize her abilities and strive for her full development."

This aim was chosen to emphasize the importance of the development of a code of ethics and to gain respect for one's self and others. Chapter projects and programs emphasized the state objective "morals and manners matter."

Joyce Pembleton (Past Pres. of Federation), Hilda Saxton (Vice Pres.), Nancy Clements (Treas.), Sandra Grove (Pres.), Beth Orange (Secretary) and Olivia Jenkins (Reporter-Hist.) made plans for the year's work at the Executive Council Meeting in October.

Ace Club supports athletic spirit

The Ace of Clubs, a service club, took as its main activity this year the sponsorship of baseball.

Ace members wear the club colors, green and white, on every Thursday and the emblem with A-C-E superimposed on either the first or third Thursday of the month.

The Ace initiates are chosen from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes on their interest in school activities, willingness to work, and cheerful spirit. The initiates were entertained at a Tea at the home of Nancy Jane Flippen. This evening was climaxed by an impressive candlelight service.

Dispatcher vitalizes news and views of CHS

Through the combined efforts of the English and business departments, the Dispatcher presents an interesting and informative view of life around Crewe High. As a member of the Southern Interscholastic Press Association, the Dispatcher meets all requirements and standards set for high school publications.

The production of each Dispatcher begins on Thursday with the posting of assignments on the school bulletin board by the editor. Early Monday morning the staff and sponsors proofread the articles and pass them back to the reporters who make corrections. After being rewritten, the articles are proofread once more by the Dispatcher sponsor. Then the typists assume the responsibility of "dummying" each article in preparation for placement on the "dummy sheet" by the make-up editor. After the paper is stenciled, it is again proofread by the assistant editor. If there are no mistakes, the typists and make-up editor mimeograph and staple the pages together. Each Friday afternoon during sixth period, the staff distributes Dispatchers to all classrooms.

Monogram Club supports athletic participation

The Varsity Club began its fourth year at Crewe High School under the sponsorship of Coach Robert Golubic.

Membership in the Club is limited to varsity athletes who have achieved the varsity letter in football, basketball, or baseball. The Club stimulates interest and participation in athletics, good sportsmanship, and a high respect for the varsity letter.

Each year the Club presents a "Rinky Dink" award to some non-letterman of the football team who has contributed the most enthusiasm and hard work for the good of the team.

The Varsity Club also printed and sold programs at all home football games and printed football schedules, which were placed in various places of business in Crewe.

President Bobby Staples calls Monogram Club to order.

Members examine programs sold at all home football games.

Beta Club emphasizes scholastic achievement

Committee members Dexter Oliver, Linda Bradshaw, Dickie Ingram, and Ann Taylor organize plans for the fall federation meeting.

The Beta Club of CHS began its activities late in the fall this year. There was some consideration concerning a changeover in the school to the National Honor Society, but because of the club's participation in federation activities, the changeover at this time wasn't feasible.

CHS was host to the Heart of Virginia Beta Federation meeting on November 17th. Linda Bradshaw served as president of the federation and delegated the responsibilities which insured success of the fall meeting. New officers were elected at the spring meeting in Powhatan to which representatives from Crewe were sent.

The Beta Club sponsored the traditional Valetine program. The highlight of the year in the eyes of the Betas was the Convention held in March at Hotel Roanoke for the election of state officers.

The Railroader Staff polishes facets of memory

This year the Railroader has been engaged in the cutting, shaping, and polishing of the "jewels" of Crewe High School. The Railroader sparkles with the faculty, gleams with the individual classes, glitters with the clubs and organizations, and glows with the activities.

Mrs. Juanita Yates and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, the Railroader sponsors, deserve special thanks for their help and shining ideas whenever needed. Also, everyone on the staff is grateful to Dick Ward for his photographic ability, which he used in capturing the colorful events of Crewe High.

The Railroader has been supported financially by the advertisements of local businesses and subscriptions by organizations and students.

This year an additional four pages have been included for extra coverage.

The Railroader Staff worked harder than ever to make this, the 1966 Railroader, the "most brilliant yearbook" ever.

The co-ordinators of Railroader activities were Linda Bradshaw (Business Manager), Mrs. Juanita Yates and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson (Railroader sponsors), Dick Ward (Photographer), Ann Taylor and Dexter Oliver (Co-editors).

Jo Ann Skinner, Linda Bradshaw, Pat Bradshaw, Ann Taylor, Dexter Oliver, and Dick Ward carefully scrutinize layouts of yearbook pages.

Cheers ring out at all games

The head-cheerleaders of CHS, Donna Kay Gholson and Nancy Pfirman, display spark and pep.

The vivacious cheerleaders of C.H.S. sparked school spirit through their enthusiasm in all phases of sports. They promoted good sportsmanship and fair play at all football and basketball games as they directed cheers. Their influence was also evident at noisy pep assemblies, bonfires, and half-time activities.
